GUIDELINES FOR: THE SUBMISSION OF A REPORT FOLLOWING SCHOLARSHIP FUNDING

The following is a guide only and it should be remembered that headings and content can be changed to suit the event attended.

When presenting a report it should be clearly written, spelling and grammar must be correct therefore it is always advisable to have your report checked by a colleague before submission.

You do not necessarily need to use the various headings, however it is useful to use them for formatting in the initial stages of report writing.

You can use a front page for your heading and put your own details at the bottom instead of at the end.

It is important to remember that the more financial assistance provided, the more in depth the report should be i.e. under $1,000 no less than 1,200 words and over $1,000 no less than 2,000 words.

SUGGESTED FORMAT:

Heading:

Report on event name, venue, country or state and date.

Introduction:

Give a short introduction to the type of venue, number of delegates, where they are from, weather, accommodation, and impression of surroundings. Sessions attended. General information to lead into the report.

The most significant papers:

State topic title, name of presenter, where they are from.

Give an overall précis of the topic. State why you feel it is significant.

Other papers with less significance:

A general overview of other presentations you attended which although not new to you they endorsed what you currently do, or do better. The speaker was particularly good in his/her presentation making it interesting to listen to an old topic.

Significant poster presentations:

The same information as for papers is required.

Relevance of the event to Day Surgery Nursing in your unit, NSW or Australia.

Give a short paragraph on the highlights and the message from these highlights.

Ideas, strategies, procedures etc that could be introduced in your unit, NSW or Australia.

Self-explanatory.

Benefits of informal interchanges with other participants.

Who did you network with? What information did you exchange/discuss? Your opinion of this networking.

Evaluation of the experiences derived from the event.

Was the experience of value to you? Did it increase your motivation, how/why? What did you like most about the event.

Assessment of whether your objectives were met.

Review your stated objectives for attending the event and comment.

Detail how the information you gained through attendance has/will be disseminated and further plans, if any, which have been made in this regard. Self-explanatory.

Conclusion

Appreciation and thank you for the financial assistance. / Your name, position, hospital and date.
